When you find the kinds of books you love, it's magic. Reading lets you step into another person's shoes, visit anywhere in the world, and even time travel. A powerful book will make you laugh and cry, think and feel. If I could give a gift to every child it would be the love of reading, because when you read for pleasure it changes your life.

Michelle Harrison, author of the Widdershins Adventures